FARGO, S. D., Oct. 13 -- Over 16,000 people greeted President McKinley and his party when they arrived here to-night at 7.35. Entering carriages, the party was driven to a reviewing stand through a line of the First North Dakota volunteers, who recently returned from the Philippines. The president was received with wild demonstrations. In his address he referred repeatedly to the situation in the Philippines. erament would send 60,660 men to The president spoke as follows: My Fellow Citizens:-For the past few the effects of the strain.

You did your duty and filled my heart with joy when, with other volunteers and regulars, you sent me word that you would not quit the battle line in Luzon until I could create a new army and send would not quit the battle line in Luzon until I could create a new army and send it there. You refused to beat a retreat or fold your colors in the presence of the enemy. No matter who wanted you to go home, you said, 'We will stay and keep the flag stainless in the presence of the enemy. 'No soldiers of any country ever had any more delicate or trying duty. This army of which this fragment from your state formed a part, remained in Luzon waiting, first, for the treaty of peace which was being prepared in Parls, then for its ratification by the senate of the United States, then until the exchange of ratification between the United States and Spain, waiting through all that long period, accepting the insolence of the insurgents with dignity because they were ordered by the executive of the uniten not to strike a blow weedler.

MAY BE A CONSOLIDATION.

It Is Rumored That Wagner Palace Car Company Is to Absorb the Pallman Company.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.-The Chronicle tomorrow will say:

The rumor that Pullman Palace Car Company had secured control of the Wagner Palace Car Company yesterday gave place to a report that the Wagner company would take over the Pullman company. The price of Pullman stock in the market indicates that some substantial change in the com-pany is soon to take place. The position pany is soon to take place. The position of the Wagner company is quite opposite to that of the Pullman. The Vanderbilt interest, which controls the Wagner, is, by reason of its railroad holdings, the largest patron of the pulace car industry in the world. For these reasons, many regardles final absorption of the Pullman company by the Wagner company as the logical outcome of the palace car situation. Officials of both companies deny that any scheme of consolidation or obsorption is contemplated.

SAME OLD STORY.

Shamrock and Columbia Did Not Rac Yesterday-Too Much Fog, Too Little Wind.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.-The winds asleep in their caverns and a coverlet of white fog drawn over the bosom of the drowsy ocean to-day lengthened the unprecedented record of flukes in the cup contest to six. As on Tuesday, the yachts did not leave their anchorages inside Sandy Hook. It was useless to make another attempt such weather. So, at the hour set for the start, the regatta committee boat poked out to sea through the dense bank of vapor and announced to the group of vessels assembled about the lightship the same mo otonous story that there would be no rac-

Everybody is thoroughly disgusted. The patience of the public is almost exhausted. From 50,000 people, who went out on the first day, the crowds have dwindled until it is perfectly safe to say that fewer than 5,000 people were affoat to-day. The outlook was so gloomy from a money-making standpoint that some of the excursion boats which sold tickets for the series of race were trying to-day to redeem them, with the intention of abandoning their excursions altogether. The repeated postponements have also worn the patience of the committee and the owners of the two yachts. the weather. If anything, the fog was thicker than yesterday morning, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the excursion steamers and committee boats found their way to Sandy Hook. It took the committee boats fully an hour to return to Sandy Hook bay, where the yachts were lying, because of the dense fog. As soon as the yachts were sighted, the committee again declared the race off for the benefit of the owners, and upon receiving their word that they would race to-morrow they hoisted the signals announcing that fact.

Previous to all this at 10.25, the race had Frevious to all this, at 10:35, the race had been called off by mutual consent of Mr. Iselin and Sir Thomas Lipton, after a brief conference between them on board the Erin, they not knowing at the time whether the committee boat would find its way into Sandy Hook bay for some hours.

One of the Columbia's wooden club topsail yards was cut in half lengthwise by carpenters on Sandy Hook pier this morning, the intention being to hollow it out and make it lighter.

STATE BRINGS STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST JESTER.

ACCUSED OF GROSS CRUELTY

NEAREST RELATIVES HAVE TURNED AGAINST HIM.

Defendant's Attorneys Are Worried and Will Not Indicate Line of Defense-State Making Its Best Showing-Hearing to End To-day.

PARIS, MO., Oct. 13.-(Special.) Th hain of circumstantial evidence is slowly ightening around Alexander Jester as his trial goes on. The well-remembered buffale calf and the Gates family dog, "Abe Linhave been traced through Kansas nd Missouri, and to-morrow the evidence will be given showing their route through llinois and Indiana. The defense will not utline its plans, but the attorneys seen greatly worried by the strong case that s being wound around their client. There a rumor that Jester's attorneys will atempt to show that Charles Hazelhurs aversolicitous in influencing young Gates to go West with him in 1871, and b ing east a suspicion on this friend of the Gates family. The most important evi ence given to-day was that of Justice Dodge, of Wichita, before whom Jester was arraigned in Kansas in 1871. He has the transcript of the original and only statement made by Jester as to what be ame of Gilbert Gates, which is as follows "Gilbert Gates left me two miles north of the Missouri river, near Boonville, Mo. and said he was going to his home in Illinois. I had bought his team for $725 the day before, and had asked him to remain with me two days, offering him half the roceeds from showing the buffalo calf. He said he had received a letter from his ore the trial proper. Most of the witnesses yesterday were ery old men. Jester changed expression out once during the trial. A smile broke ver his countenance when a Mexico news aper man attempted to requote a passage of Scripture Jester had used in a conversa on with him. Mr. Cullen, for the defense again alluded to the use of money by John W. Gates to hang Jester and drew an immediate admission from Prosecuting Attorney Rodes that such was really the case asmuch as Gates had paid the expense of the witness up to the Missouri line, and that Mr. Gates was fortified in the legit-imate use of money in employing assistant counsel and paying expenses of poor wit-nesses, and was only exercising the right accorded to and exercised in seven out of ten murder cases tried in this country. Mr. Rodes said to The Journal correspond-ent this morning that John W. Gates would advance money to pay the railroad fare of witnesses to the Missouri line, and that they would receive their scrip and col-lect same from the state of Missouri. So Mr. Gates will lost nothing. It now transpires that ex-Sheriff Mu-stattd, of this county, had Jester located five years ago, and so wrote the elder Gates, but the latter wrote back that he now had no desire for vengeauce and no money to continue the hunt for the murhat Mr. Gates was fortified in the legit came back with his medicine case and horse.

The sheriff was afraid to arrest Jester at the time, because he was backed up by the most desperate set of men in the Southwest, and lived in a wild part of the country. The state will introduce evidence to prove that Jester cut the throat of young Gates and the instrument with which it was done. Justice Dodge, in his testimony this morning, said that Jester's story was straight at the time of the trial in Kansas, and that the evidence he held him on was the possession of the vest of Gilbert and the possession of the vest of Gilbert and the possession of the vest of Gilbert in the state of the possession of the vest of Gilbert in the following the possession of the vest of Gilbert in the possession of the vest of Gilbert not fit at all.
It looks as though the preliminary trial would last over Saturday.

The first plea was made by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney L. C. Cook. The other attorneys spoke in the following order: Senator John Kennish, for the defense: Prosecuting Attorney Martin, for the state: W. A. Blagg and W. C. Ellison, for the defense, and J. W. Perry for the state. The general opinion here to night is that a verdict of manslaughter in the fourth degree will be rendered. The attorneys for the defense in their arguments did not ask for acquittal, but merely for manslaughter in the fourth degree, while the state's counsel argued only for a finding of murder in the second degree. Jesse said this evening to The Journal correspondent that he expected a light sentence. tence.

Attorneys of the state conceded that they did not hope for any heavier sentence than murder in the second degree. Public sentiment began to grow more favorable to the defendant when he was put on the stand, and has grown ever since.

REFORM IN ORDER

GENERAL MERRITT CRITICISES AR-TILLERY SYSTEM.

URGES MANY RADICAL CHANGES

INEFFICIENCY.

eneral Merritt Says Coast Artillery Is Not in Efficient Condition-Fault, He Says, Lies Outside of the Artillery Branch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.-The annual reort of Major General Wesley Merritt, commanding the department of the East, was made public at the United States war department to-day. The report is a strong arraignment of the whole situation in the artillery branch of the service, being particularly directed against the ordnance bueau, and, incidentally, the quartermaster's epartment, the latter for failure to furnsh what General Merritt considers proper quarters at artillery posts.

General Merritt says that the system on which the artillery is organized is wrong, in that the artilleryman, who is held reponsible for the work he has to do with its guns, has no voice in the making or selection of them, this being left entirel to the ordnance bureau. But, he adds that, since the engineer department, in the same independent way, furnishes the artilleryman with his emplacements and there ha been no fault to find with this portion of village were startled by the repeated crack the equipment, there must be something of rifles near the court house square. Three more than the mere system to blame for the unsatisfactory condition of affairs General Merritt says he resumed command of that department January 7, last, since which time most of the infantry and cavalry in the department have been ordered on foreign service, leaving at the present date only four troops of cavalry and three companies of infantry. He says he has no specific recommendations to make regarding any one place. The officers are known to be intelligent, industrious and serious in their efforts to im prove the efficiency of their commands.

"That the coast artillery is not to-day in an efficient condition, General Merritt says is due to causes over which artillery of ficers have no control; nor can these impediments be reached by the departme commanders. Some require the action of the secretary of war, and others can remedied only by congress. The needs of the artillery are most ably presented in the report of the department artillery inspector, to which I invite attention. I do no feel called upon to urge the specific reme dies which he proposes, but I certainly coincide with the opinion he expresses that the artillery is in need of remedial legislation. I deem it my duty to call attention to the defects which Major Storey treats in detail, and then leave the question of here etail, and then leave the question of how hey shall be removed to the lawmaking authorities and their advisers. "Our cavairy and infantry to-day are rganized on a modern basis, are spl y officered and equipped, and, with regu ar supplies of food, clothing and ammuni tion, contain within themselves the cie-ments of complete efficiency. This is no true of the artillery. The officers are wel-educated and zealous, but their efforts are witnesses to the Missouri line, and that they would receive their scrip and collect same from the state of Missouri. So Mr. Gates will lost nothing.

It now transpires that ex-Sheriff Mustattd, of this county, had Jester located five years ago, and so wrote the elder Gates, but the latter wrote back that he now had no destre for vengeance and no money to continue the hunt for the murderer. Many incidents in Jester's career tending to show cruelty, hypocrisy and general resulting are related by Indiana witnesses. One man tells of him stripping his two boys to the skin, putting a cowhide in e n one's hands and standing over them with a pistol in his hand, compelling them to lash each other until the blood flowed. Another told how when he (Jester) was exhorting in the pulpit he put pepper to his ever the put to the put pepper is big accept to the put pepper.

"Second—The necessity for providing at artillery posts, as permanent post non-commissioned staff officers, specialists, electrician and ordnance sergeants.

"Third—The recommendation that the strength of the coast artillery be fixed at the number of officers and men required to fully man the guns.

"It is also observed that the artillery should be inspected by artillery officers and the fact that the department commander's artillery inspector has no power to inspect is a patent absurdity, and one a public road and became involved in a dispute over the road work. This led to a renewal of the old trouble. Hester started to dismount and Spradley, who was seated in a buggy, shot him twice. Spradley im-mediately drove to Garnett and surrender-
